

CK Association Privacy Notice

The Creative Kinesiology Association (CKA) is committed to keeping your personal data safe and secure. Your trust is really important to us and we want you to be confident when sharing your personal information with us that we will keep it safe.

Due to a change in the law, we've updated our Privacy Policy to make it easier for you to understand what information we collect and keep, why we collect this information and how your data is handled by us in line with good practice. It also sets out your individual rights to know what data is being held about you, how this data is processed and how you can place restriction on the use of your data.

The Creative Kinesiology Association is a 'not-for-profit' organisation, offering 4 main services:

1. Publishing information for the public about our practitioners and training via our website;
2. Publishing a free regular newsletter sent out to subscribers
3. Co-ordinating high quality training in Creative Kinesiology, including on-going mentoring and Continuing Professional Development
4. Providing membership services to our Practitioner Members.

The information and data collected differs for each of these services. For further information about how the CKA uses your personal data, including your rights as a data subject, please see our full Privacy Policy (this will be published soon on the website).

In brief we will:

- only collect information needed for a specific purpose - and this purpose will be set out clearly;
- keep it secure;
- ensure it is relevant and up to date;
- only hold as much as we need, and only for as long as we need it;
- allow the subject of the information to see it on request and
- not share your data with any other third parties without your permission or unless required or permitted to do so by law.

Further information is available on the ICO (Information Commissioner's Office) website: www.ico.org.uk The CK Association's data protection officer can be contacted at admin@creativekinesiology.org

Creative Kinesiology Association

June 2018